Financial Support, etc.

- Almost all doctoral students are eligible for some form of financial support (non-repayable) (research grant: up to 230,000 JPY per month + research expenses: up to 1.5 million JPY per year).
- Master's students are also eligible to apply for a number of scholarships, and tuition and admission fees are fully or half waived depending on academic and family financial criteria.
- The Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO) scholarships (return required) also offer a return waiver system for both masters and doctorates for those with excellent grades.
- We also have a good support system for studying abroad.
